

MARKED-UP VERSION

IN THE CLAIMS:

Please amend the claims as follows:

1. (original) Arrangement for producing therapeutic insoles, consisting of a platform with a scanner (1) for scanning the undersides of the patient's feet, a data processing connection for transmitting the scanned image to a computer, a data processing computer program which converts the transmitted data into working instructions for the control of a milling machine, and of said milling machine which mills a therapeutic insole from a blank according to said working instructions, characterized in that neurological proceptors (3, 4) are placed on the scanner (1) under the patient's foot(2) in accordance with the patient's predisposition, the proceptors (3, 4) are part of a set of standardized proceptors having various dimensions, the proceptors (3, 4) are identified by markings on their underside, and the scanned image contains the identifying markings and the orientation of the proceptors.

2.-6. (cancelled without prejudice)